Dear Prospective Client:

School-Psychologist.com is an organization founded with the premise that K-12 educators are the backbone of our society, with profound impact on intellectual, emotional, and psychological development. This organization was conceived to cultivate the passion, resources, and convictions of our nation's educators through the facilitation of interactive workshops, assistance in the delivery of special education services, and psycho-educational evaluation services.

Given the opportunity to work with your school, we will be able to provide as-needed psycho-educational services, assistance and coordination in the delivery of special education services, and staff development that enhances interpersonal effectiveness of teachers that leads to improved student performance.

We have a personal appreciation for the essential techniques required of educators to create an atmosphere conducive to productive and responsive students. In addition, we have an extensive background and the training essential in helping schools and school personnel in the effective delivery of special education services.

Headquartered in the metro Phoenix area, we feel a personal investment knowing that we can affect a positive, long-lasting difference for the educators and youth within our own community. The well-being of youth, professional development of educators, and knowledge of the special education process and assessment techniques are principles we are devoted to. School-Psychologist.com would be honored to share this expertise with the teachers and students of the [Insert Your School Name Here], and we hope to collaborate with your school on a longitudinal basis. Thank you for considering this proposal.

Sincerely,

Director
